MONDAY, AUGUST 8, 1768.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

By the Honourable WILLIAM BULL, Esq; Lieutenant Governor, and Commander in Chief, in and over His Majesty's said Province.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS it has been represented to me, that divers dissolute and disorderly Persons have of late frequently assembled themselves together in the North-Western Parts of this Province, in a riotous and unlawful Manner, to the Disturbance of the Public Peace; and particularly have, in the most illegal Manner, taken upon them to whip and confine several Persons, under the Pretence of Crimes, which they have charged against them, instead of delivering them into the Hands of Public Justice; and have daringly resisted the Execution of the King's Process; and that those Acts of Violence have been accompanied with Threats of still greater Outrages; which have spread Terror and Alarm amongst those most likely to be affected thereby: And that some of the said dissolute and disorderly Persons have audaciously attempted to deter and intimidate the Civil Magistrates from doing their Duty. I, having taken the same into serious Consideration, and being duly sensible of the mischievous Consequences that may ensue from the Continuance and Repetition of such Disorders, have thought fit, by and with the Advice of His Majesty's Honourable Council, to issue this my PROCLAMATION, hereby strictly requiring and commanding all the Justices, Provost Marshal, and all other the Peace Officers of this Province, that they do, severally, use their utmost Endeavours, by every legal Means in their Power, effectually to prevent and suppress all Riots, Tumults, and unlawful Assemblies; and, to that end, to put in due Execution the Laws for preventing and suppressing the same, and THAT ALL HIS MAJESTY'S DUTIFUL AND LOYAL SUBJECTS BE AIDING AND ASSISTING THEREIN; and further, that the Magistrates and all others acting in Obedience to this Proclamation, may rely on the Protection and Support of the Law in so doing, as they shall answer, at their Peril, for the Neglect thereof.

GIVEN under my Hand, and the Great Seal of the said Province, at CHARLES-TOWN, this Third Day of August, in the Eighth Year of His Majesty's Reign, and in the Year of Our Lord 1768

WILLIAM BULL.

By his Honour's Command,
THOMAS SHOTTOWE, Secretary.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

LONDON.

Extract of a Letter from NEUFCHATEL in SWITZERLAND, April 28.

HE proceſs which has ſubſiſted theſe two years between thisſtate and the King of Pruſſia having lately been decided by the Canton of Berne, in favour of the latter, the Sieur Gaudot, a citizen of Neufchatel, who was the King's Attorney-General, and conſequently had the management of the cauſe for his Pruſſian Majeſty, returned here laſt Sunday from Berne, and was to have two conſiderable preſents given him, as a reward for the trouble he had taken upon that occaſion, and the ſucceſs with which it was crowned. The people, who accuſed him of betraying the intereſt of his country, were greatly exaſperated againſt him; and their fury encreaſed when they ſaw him. The Sieur Gaudot alighted from his coach at ſome diſtance from his houſe, and walked the reſt of the way through a multitude of people hiſſing him, and throwing out inveCtives againſt him. The mob broke ſome of the windows of his houſe, and a guard was placed to prevent further miſchief.

"Notwithſtanding this, the populace returned the next day with greather fury than before; upon which the Magiſtrates endeavoured to get the Sieur Gaudot away privately, and for that purpoſe brought a coach, which was preceded and followed by attendants on horſeback, in the liveries of the ſtate; the coach no ſooner came to the door, but the mob broke it to pieces. The Magiſtrates thereupon ordered a company of grenadiers to diſperſe the mob. About nine o'clock in the evening the Sieur Gaudot perceiving the muſquets and bayonets, and being afraid of his life, he fired ſeveral piſtols, and had the misfortune to wound ſome of the grenadiers, who were ſent to defend him; after which they made but little oppoſition againſt the mob, who then broke into the houſe, and deſtroyed every thing in it.

"The Sieur Gaudot, and one of his nephews, barricaded themſelves in a room covered with fire-arms. The firſt of the mob that entered the room was ſhot dead, but his followers ſoon revenged his death by that of the Attorney-General, who was ſhot through by ſeveral balls, and ſtabb'd with ſeveral bayonets.

"Immediately after a man looked out of a window, and cried out, He is dead, long live the Prince, and may all Traitors periſh. It was with the greateſt difficulty that they could even bury the body; ſeveral communities refuſed their church-yards, and nobody would make the coffin, or carry the corpſe to the grave; and when the corpſe was brought to the burial place, under an eſcort of grenadiers they found the grave filled up. The particulars of this affair are ſent to the Canton of Berne and the court of Berlin."

London, May 25. According to our advices from Switzerland, the murder of Sieur Gaudot at Neufchatel is likely to be attended with ſerious conſequences. The Sieur Derſchau, Miniſter-Plenipotentiary from the King of Pruſſia, has required, in the name of the King his maſter, the Cantons of Berne, Lucerne, Fribourg, and Soleurn, who have treaties ſubſiſting with the counties of Neufchatel and Valaugin, to ſend to Neufchatel a garriſon of ſix hundred men, to aſſiſt the magiſtrates in bringing to juſtice the authors and accomplices of the late outrages. The Canton of Berne has already furniſhed its quota, and it's preſumed that the other Cantons will conform to the orders of his Pruſſian Majeſty.

May 25. George Shakeſpeare near Brook ſtreet, Hanover ſquare, Carpenter; Richard Gobbett of Scotland-yard, glazier; William Greenwell of Portland-ſtreet, Marybone, Carpenter; and James Moſs of May-ſtreet, Oxford-market, carpenter, were bail for Alexander Murray, Eſq; charged with the wilful murder of William Allen the younger, themſelves in 100l. each, and Mr. Murray himſelf, in 400l. And the two firſt-mentioned perſons were bail for Daniel Maclaury, charged with the wilful murder of the ſaid William Allen, themſelves in 50l. each, and himſelf in 100l.

It is remarkable, in the year 1724 one William Allen was killed in a riot at the King's Bench priſon in the Borough, being the ſame name with the unfortunate young man that was killed in St. George's-fields, as already mentioned.

On the 30th of May, 1719, John Matthews, a printer, was indicted for printing and publiſhing a treaſonable libel, and though there were no evidence to prove that the libel was ever publiſhed, yet was Matthews at the age of 19, hanged for high treaſon. The printer's-houſe was ſearched in conſequence of an order from the Secretary of State.—What do not Engliſhmen owe to the firmneſs and intrepidity of Mr. Wilkes, in conſequence of which, general warrants were declared to be illegal.

May 26. Various are the reports concerning the manner of rewarding a certain magiſtrate, for his activity in ſuppreſſing the late tumults. Some talk of a peerage, others of a bluſhing ribbon, but this by ſome grave perſons is imagined to be too glaring for a trader: In ſhort, it is generally concluded on the whole, as the moſt proper and beſt adapted reward, that his L——ſhall have the cloathing of the third regiment of foot guards.

Advices from Peterſburgh remark, that three freſh bodies of troops have orders to hold themſelves in readineſs to march, and that the court is come to a reſolution of raiſing 80,000 recruits.

We hear from undoubted authority, that at the next aſſizes for the county of Surry, as ſoon as the Grand Jury is impanelled, bills of indictment for wilful murder will be preferred againſt the juſtices, who gave orders for the firing in St. George's fields, when young Allen, and the others were killed.

Some diſputes having lately ariſen between the coal-heavers and ſailors belonging to colliers, relating to unloading the coals, they on Tueſday had ſeveral ſkirmiſhes, and it is reported ſeveral of the coal-heavers were killed. The coal-heavers met on Tueſday afternoon in Stepney-fields, in order to have a trial of ſkill with their antagoniſts, but the guards from the Tower prevented further miſchief.

On Sunday laſt a couple of Indifferent Lovers had ſo much Falſe Delicacy, as to be found in a very fond attitude in a field near Hornſey: ſeveral perſons gathered round them, whom the Good-nature'd Man aſſiſted, that he and his Maid of the Mill had that morning eſcaped a Clandeſtine Marriage, and were come thither to make Love in a Village.

May 28. According to private letters from the Hague, a body of Pruſſian troops were ſoon expected to make their appearance in Italy.

Letters from Peterſburgh of the 20th laſt, ſay, that recruits are daily arriving there from the heart of the empire, in order to complete their forces both by ſea and land.

It is ſaid, that no leſs than fifty people have been murdered in Dublin, during the courſe of the laſt fortnight, by the inſurrection of the populace.

Extract of a letter from DUBLIN.

I am ſorry you cannot at your ſide of the water quell your riotous mob without ſo much ſpilling of blood: Our late diſturbances here were more violent than ever I remember in this kingdom; the mob that were aſſembled the moſt numerous and deſperate ever known; yet, (to the immortal honour of our magiſtrates) they were, in a few hours, with the military aid, diſperſed and quietted without the leaſt injury or violence done them. I think ſuch magiſtrates, and ſuch military, will deſerve—THANKS; they have already had our worthy Lord Lieutenant's. I find the inqueſts taken on thoſe poor people ſlaughtered in St. George's Fields, were brought in accidental. You muſt certainly remember the caſe of the under ſheriff of the county of Dublin in the year 1738, who ordered out a guard of ſoldiers, to aſſiſt him in diſperſing the mob aſſembled in the fields of Kilmainham, when he, like ſome of your raſh magiſtrates, ordered a file of men to fire, whereby one man was killed, and another wounded; the inqueſt then found it wilful murder, and the grand jury found the bill againſt the ſheriff, who became outlawed, having fled his country to avoid the juſt puniſhment the law would then have certainly inflicted on him, but could not eſcape the divine vengeance, for he died in a ditch in Marybone-fields, through want. However, I am pleaſed to hear of the prudence of your Weſtminſter judges, who I had have had much employment in their diſtrict, and whoſe humane and prudent conduct redounds much to their honour.

Twenty thouſand muſkets are commiſſioned for at Birmingham and London, to be fabricated for the ſervice of France.

The beſt pieces of roaſting beef are now at the extravagant price of ſix-pence per pound, and yet grain was never more plentiful.

May 31. It is confidently reported that John Wilkes, Eſq. will be admitted to bail the firſt day of next term, in the court of King's-bench, Weſtminſter.

A favourite toaſt, in the moſt reſpectable ſocieties, which are dutiful to his Majeſty, is, Royalty, Loyalty, Wilkes and Liberty.

We hear that a clergyman, not far from St. George's fields, preached lately on this text, Geneſis xviii. 28. And he ſaid, If I find there Forty and Five, I will not deſtroy it.

A fleet of obſervation, it is ſaid, will ſhortly be ſent to the Mediterranean.

We hear that an act of inſolvency will ſhortly take place for the relief of the preſent great number of priſoners confined in the different jails in this metropolis.

We are credibly informed, the conſumption of calves, lambs, and ſucking pigs, will be prohibited by authority next ſeſſions of parliament.

The report circulated in ſome of the papers, that the treaty entered into between the French and Genoeſe, was with the concurrence of Gen. Paoli, is probably not true; which the following little extract from Mr. Boſwell's account of Corſica, may ſerve to explain:

"Paoli talked very highly on preſerving the independency of Corſica. We may, ſaid he, have foreign powers for our friends; but they muſt be amici furoi di caſa, friends at arms length. We may make an alliance, but we will not ſubmit ourſelves to the dominion of the greateſt nation in Europe. This people, who have done ſo much for liberty, would be hewn in pieces man by man, rather than allow Corſica to be ſunk into the territories of another country. Some years when a falſe rumour was ſpread that I had a deſign to yield up Corſica to the emperor; a Corſican came to me, and addreſſed me in great agitation; What! ſhall the blood of ſo many Heroes, who have ſacrificed their lives for the freedom of Corſica ſerve only to tinge the purple of a foreign prince?"

We hear that Mr. Wilkes's affair will be further argued in the court of King's-bench on Tueſday next.

We hear his Majeſty had made a preſent to his Serene Highneſs the Prince of Monaco of a miniature picture of his late Royal Highneſs the Duke of York, enriched with diamonds.

It is ſaid, that intelligence has been received from Boſton in New-England, that the people have refuſed to pay the cuſtom houſe duties, and have ſolicited by circular letters, all the colonies upon the continent to join in this reſolution; and that the Boſtonians ſent word to the cuſtom-houſe officers, that they might live there as private people, but if they attempted to execute their orders, they muſt take the conſequence.

They write from Gibraltar, that a ſhock of an earthquake was lately felt there, which had at the ſame time been ſenſibly perceived on board the men of war in the Bay, attended with an uncommon motion.

The yachts at Deptford, it is ſaid, have received orders to be in readineſs to preſerve the free navigation of the river, at preſent greatly interrupted.

We hear from Portſmouth, that three companies of marines will be embarked on board ſome ſhips of war fitting out there, ſaid to be intended for the Mediterranean ſtation.

On Sunday the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor went to one of the Secretaries of State, and acquainted him with the unhappy ſituation of the maſters of colliers, deputy coal-meters, &c. upon which he wrote to Juſtice Pell and Juſtice Hudſon, &c. informing them, that if any diſturbance ſhould happen on account of working the coal-ſhips by the ſailors, they might ſend to the Tower, and the guards ſhould immediately march to their aſſiſtance.

By ſome preparations making at Deptford, it ſhould ſeem, one or more of the yachts is going to be fitted for a foreign voyage; but the perſonages to embark on board thereof are not certainly known, but variouſly ſpoken of.

We hear that foreign ſervants are now in ſuch great eſteem, that a cook's wages is a hundred guineas per annum for ten years certain; after which an annuity of forty pounds a year is ſettled for life.

Bath, June 2. Our letters from London adviſe, that Mr. Wilkes's council ſay that they ſhall give themſelves no farther trouble to appear next term, for that every thing that can be ſaid upon that ſubject has been ſaid, therefore they have nothing more to do. It is added, that this puzzles and embaraſſes the oppoſite party exceedingly, which it is ſuppoſed is the point aimed at.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE EXTRAORDINARY.

APPLICATION having been made to a neighbouring kingdom, for an augmentation of the troops on that eſtabliſhment, this cauſed an enquiry there, how the money heretofore granted for the payment of the troops had been expended; when it appearing, that, for the two laſt years, the annual charge of the military in that kingdom had been very conſiderably increaſed, notwithſtanding the number of effective men to be ſupported was the ſame; and that there had even been a conſiderable deficiency in the number of effective men in thoſe two years; warm debates enſued, and many chief officers, conſidering themſelves as no longer members for life, were on the ſide oppoſite to government, whereby the bill for the augmentation was rejected, the firſt day by a majority of four.

One thing very remarkable appeared alſo in the report of the committee, which was publiſhed on this occaſion, viz. that in the year 1700 there were twenty five regiments only of Cavalry and Infantry upon the eſtabliſhment, which contained, nevertheleſs, twelve thouſand men; but that the preſent eſtabliſhment, though containing no greater number of men, conſiſts of forty-two regiments which exceeds the eſtabliſhment of 1700 by ſeventeen regiments, and is more by ſix regiments than ever was kept up in that kingdom in time of peace. This is the firſt fruit derived from octennial parliaments in that kingdom, which, it is hoped, may be deemed an additional argument, both there and here, for abridging even that term. The whole of the money ſunk on this occaſion cannot well be eſtimated.

To the Printer of the Whitehall Evening-Poſt.

SIR,

THERE happened in the time of Lord Chief Juſtice Holt, a riot in Holburn; notice of this being ſent to Whitehall, a party of guards were commanded to march to the place, but they firſt ſent an officer to the Chief Juſtice to acquaint him with the deſign, and to deſire him to ſend ſome of his people to attend the ſoldiers, in order to give it a better countenance. The officer having delivered the meſſage, Ld. Ch. Juſ. Holt ſaid to him, "Suppoſe the people ſhould not diſperſe at your appearance, what are you to do then?" Sir, anſwered the officer, we have orders to fire upon them. Have you, Sir, replied his Lordſhip, then take notice of what I ſay, "IF THERE BE ONE MAN KILLED, AND YOU ARE TRIED BEFORE ME, I WILL TAKE CARE THAT YOU, AND EVERY SOLDIER OF YOUR PARTY, SHALL BE HANGED: Sir, added he, go back to thoſe who ſent you, and acquaint them, that no officer of mine ſhall attend ſoldiers: and let them know at the ſame time, THAT THE LAWS OF THIS KINGDOM ARE NOT TO BE EXECUTED BY THE SWORD; theſe matters belong to the Civil Power, and you have nothing to do with them."

Upon this the Lord Chief Juſtice ordered his tipſtaffs, with a few conſtables to attend him, and he went himſelf in perſon to the place where the tumult was, expoſtulated with the mob, aſſured them that juſtice ſhould be done upon the perſons who were the objects of their indignation; and thus they all diſperſed quietly. See L. C. J. Holt's Life. PRO GREGE.

To the Printer of the Whitehall Evening-Poſt.

SIR,

IT is with infinite pleaſure I ſee the various merry conceits of the honeſt citizens, and traders, as to the number 45: forty five gentlemen meet, and eat 45 pounds of beef, drink 45 pots of beer, ſpit 45 times in the fire; and then—What then? Why then they make themſelves true patriots, men of wit, and champions for Wilkes and Liberty. But with all humble ſubmiſſion and deference to their ſuperior judgments, I beg leave to ſay, that they always omit the true joke, which is to collect 45 guineas towards paying his debts. What does the people in power care "who chaſes, who frets," or who eats and drinks at forties and fives? But, if Mr. Wilkes is made an independant man, and goes into the houſe free from incumbrances, he will become terrible to bad miniſters; and his friends who thus pay his debts furniſh him with the moſt exalted inſtance of generoſity and ſpirit. I therefore do moſt humbly entreat all thoſe patriotic and anti-miniſterial wags, jokers, funny fellows, and Liberty-men all, never more to communicate their jeſts and conundrums on the noble number 45 except the article concludes thus: "and after the ſociety had eat, drank, ſmoked, danced, and ſung, all to the tune of 45, forty five guineas were collected towards extricating Mr. Wilkes from his pecuniary incumbrances."

A Lover of a True Joke.

An original Camera Obſcura; or, the court, city and country Magic Lanthorn. Being an account of the moſt curious and uncommon collection of MANUSCRIPTS (warranted originals) ever yet offered to the Public. Octavo, pp. 79. Price 1s. 6d.

AN Advertiſement prefixed to this pamphlet, informs the public, that the gentleman having reſolved to diſpoſe of his manuſcripts, was prevailed on by his friends to ſell them by auction; and accordingly the celebrated Mr. Smirk was directly ſent for, and engaged for that purpoſe.—The advertiſement is ſucceeded by a dedication to the Earl of Cheatum; and this is followed by an account of the Manuſcripts, which are divided into 60 lots; from whence we have ſelected the forty fifth lot, as a ſpecimen of this author's talent for humour.

LOT the FORTY FIFTH.

Eheu triumphum! Or,

WILKES AND LIBERTY FOR EVER.

A very droll, panto-mimical FARCY of two ACTS as lately repreſented with great applauſe at GUILDHALL Theatre, with entire new ſcenes, dreſſes, decorations and machinery, but what through the incapacity of the Wire-maſters, and thoſe that conducted the machinery and trap-doors, the HERO of the piece, after having been elevated in the air, by TWELVE HUNDRED AND FORTY SEVEN SCREWS, was juſt upon the point of falling through, had not the ſcene, in a very maſterly and uncommon manner, immediately ſhifted to BRENTFORD, where by means of the managers, and his own activity, he was ſoon raiſed, in the beginning of the ſecond act, to a right angle of FORTY-FIVE degrees, and ſo ſquared the circle with univerſal applauſe, to the aſtoniſhment and aſtoniſhment of all the mathematicians and conjurers, conſiſting of COOKE and PROCTORS. A thick volume in twelves, on a fine royal paper, ſtamped with number FORTY-FIVE, and the CAP OF LIBERTY upon it, with the words NO GENERAL WARRANTS around it, bound in Morocco, gilt and lettered, and ornamented with a blue ribbon. By the Right Honourable E. T. and dedicated to the Right Honourable the Earl of B——.

——ſumptum Libertas gratior extat
Quam ſub Rege pio. CLAUDIAN.

Under a mild and gracious KING,
'Twas never dream'd ſo ſtrange a freak;
As for licentiouſneſs to ſpring
From Liberty in Puffen Wick.

N. B. As this is a truly patriotic work of a very celebrated Member, this LOT will occaſion (it is thought) no ſmall buſtle in bidding for it, eſpecially as number FORTY-FIVE is now fully and clearly proved to be right reading of a famous old Greek MS. of St. John's book of the revelations, diſcovered in a Roman urn that was lately dug up in the gardens at LUTON-HOO in Bedfordſhire, and therefore univerſally allowed, by the learned who have carefully peruſed and collated the MS. to take place of number SIX HUNDRED AND SIXTY SIX, the Number of THE BEAST.

A variety of Reports continue to be circulated, in different Ways, and no Doubt with different Views, of the Proceedings and Intentions of the People called REGULATORS, in the North-weſtern Parts of this Province, ſome of them very alarming: Amongſt others, that 2 or 3000 of them were to aſſemble, as this day, at the Congarees, for very unjuſtifiable Purpoſes; but we are aſſured, that the People ſo met, or to meet, are not ſo conſiderable a Body, and have only in View to be informed of the Bounds of the reſpective Pariſhes to which they belong (the Lines of which have been but lately run) that they may not loſe the Right of voting for Repreſentatives of their own Nomination, at the next general Election, wherever the Law gives it them.

Laſt Tueſday arrived here in the Sloop Rainbow, from Curraſſo, which took up, and brought in, the People belonging to the Brigt. Polly, of and for Plymouth in New-England, from Jamaica, John Birtlett Maſter, loſt on the Martires the 29th paſt.

The two Companies of His Majeſty's 9th Regiment now at Bermuda and Providence, and 15 others from Penſacola we hear, are to go to St. Auguſtine.

By Capt. Richard Todd, from Jamaica, who arrived here laſt Friday, we have an account of the Death of Joſeph Hutchinſon, Eſq; (formerly of this Town) an eminent Merchant there, on the 28th ult. In coming into the Gulph, Capt. Todd ſaw three Wrecks on the Martires, one of them, a Spaniſh homeward-bound Ship of 18 Guns laden with Sugar, Tobacco, &c. which ran there the 17th paſt; the Brigt. Polly, already mentioned in this Paper, whoſe Crew was taken up by the Sloop Rainbow; and the Anna-Thereſa Packet-Boat, commanded by
